

The flour is directed Mrs Warren Boston Weymouth Landing } N. H.
New Bedford 4 mo 5 1846

Dear Deborah,

As coming events cast their shadows before them so will the enclosed bill precede the articles called therein which will go by the Freight Train leaving here at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, and arriving at Weymouth in the afternoon or evening. I thought it better to write before hand so that you might be on the look out - It is hardly a business transaction to send the bill in advance but my reason for so doing is that I am very busy & wish to do it up all at once. As far as the regards the payment you will suit your own convenience & on the receipt of the same will receive the bill & return ^{it} to you - The old cents you may send in postage stamps and although the government "haunt worth a damn" we are willing to take our chance in getting the same from our "Cursed Uncle Samuel" — In regard to the Eusebe ^{Flour} I would say that it requires a great deal of kneading as it is made of the very best of Southern White Wheat — but you will receive a quia pro quo or in other words an equivalent — I shall select just such flour as I would use in my own family & I shall be much disappointed if it does not prove satisfactory — However should it not be we will make the amende honorable by an allowance Don't hesitate to give your candid opinion of it — My visit to Boston was not only pleasant, but has made the way easy for the future — Fanny always said that when I really was in earnest, I succeeded — The key note which I struck was the great heart of Mrs. R. Hobbes to which all my friends here have responded and to whom I am very thankful — We shall now go it — If I can I will write sundry — Latty seems better — We are all well Yr affectionately I. K. R. S.